

Diversified Foodservice Supply, Inc. Acquires D.S.I. Parts, Inc. (DSI)

An unparalleled combination of brands creates a leader in the foodservice parts, supplies, equipment and accessories distribution industry.

Diversified Foodservice Supply, Inc. (DFSFI), the parent company of leading brands in the foodservice parts, supplies, equipment, and accessories distribution industry, acquires D.S.I. Parts, Inc. (DSI), one of the industry's most well-known and respected companies. The addition of DSI to the DFSFI portfolio adds scale to the organization and improves the customer offering for chain restaurants and their associated franchisees. DSI will continue to operate as a leading brand in the combined company and joins other DFSFI brands AllPoints Foodservice Parts and Supplies, Franklin Machine Products, Tundra Restaurant Supply, Mill Hardware, and Restaurant Parts & More as major brands owned by DFSFI.

“The addition of DSI to the DFSFI family of brands will create clear advantages to our valued customers and associates”, stated Jeff Heine, President of DSI. “Our customers will benefit through significant scale advantages in geographic coverage, product expansion, and purchasing synergies. DSI will continue to operate as a brand in the DFSFI portfolio, so the outstanding service that our customers enjoy today will only get better”.

“Adding DSI to the Diversified Foodservice Supply family is incredibly exciting”, stated Mike Cate, CEO of DFSFI. “DSI is recognized in the industry as a superior service provider and is clearly focused on the needs of its customers. The combination of DSI with our other brands will create scale advantages to include better geographic coverage with respect to our distribution footprint and a significantly more robust product offering, which will benefit all of our valued customers”.
